Inverter and PV System Technology – USA 2012

San Francisco, 27–28 February 2012

The successful conference series, “Inverter and PV System Technology Forum”, will focus on addressing grid integration of large-scale installations, its distinct certification requirements, and its very competitive upstream and downstream markets demanding intensive cooperation between all parts of the value chain.

With debate and dialog among experts from Silicon Valley and from around the world, this event will help to advance BoS and inverter performance on a broader level.

Call for Papers

The call for Papers is open until November 14, 2011. We welcome you to submit an abstract on the following website:
